NUBIA ODYSSEY

PROFILE

Community builder and digital-heritage founder who turns close observation into action. Built Nubia Odyssey, an Arabic-first digital archive of Nubian civilization, and the Nubian Memory Network, a family-memory register for 45 villages, independently and without a team or funding; the work has earned an open-access publication and academic engagement. Founded a peer-support initiative for 48 students and served as a UN Volunteer. Seeking fully funded scholarships, fellowships and international programmes where curiosity, leadership and cultural exchange create real impact.

FLAGSHIP PROJECT

Nubia Odyssey: Independent Digital Archive of Nubian Civilization — 2026 – Present
Founder, Researcher & Lead Builder

- Scope: Arabic-first atlas of living Nubian memory: an 8-chapter timeline (Kerma to displacement), a place register marked documented / partially documented / under review, and a 29-node village constellation with Andan as the model node.
- Film-first and traceable: opens with Nubia Tells, a 96-second film from family photographs; a Source Room links UNESCO, the Met Museum, UChicago ISAC, Warsaw and Michigan; an AI navigator states its limits.
- Independent build: no team, office or funding; mobile phone, Termux and AI-assisted tools.

Nubian Memory Network — Subproject | 2026 – Present

- Register: 45 villages, 3 tribal groups and 270 candidate families (documentation in progress), with an audio Nile map, a Nubian word dictionary and a 360° virtual tour.
- Research tools: Studies Observatory (20 references), Manuscripts Lab (10 entries) and in-browser OCR; audio and OCR are experimental.

ACADEMIC ENGAGEMENT & PUBLICATIONS

- Online meeting scheduled for 15 Oct 2026 with the lead of Nubian Chronicles (University of York) to discuss the project.
- Collaboration discussions initiated (Oct 2026) by a Nubian-history researcher at TCDH.
